PUBLIC PARK PROJECT

The Old Cemetery Should be Transformed.

A DISGRACE TO THE CITY NOW

Children Play Upon the Graves and Wickedness at Times Runs Riot—The Upper Portion Was Purchased by the Town and Can be Used For Any Legitimate Purpose—The Bodies Can be Moved.

"If East Liverpool knows a good thing when it sees it, the city will soon have the old cemetery transformed into a public park, for it can be done at a small cost."

The speaker was a prominent business man who has succeeded in life because he knew a good thing when he saw it, and his words came right out as though he was using his arm straight from the shoulder, and he meant every word he said. And the newspaper man could not deny even if he was so inclined. The old cemetery would make the best public park in the world. It is located on a bluff overlooking the river, and giving a view of the valley which is unsurpassed for beauty. While it is true the scene is made less beautiful by a glimpse of shanty boats and factories, there is yet verdure on the Virginia side to make a view pleasing to the eye, and the distance so smooths the lines of Wellsville as to produce an effect at once peaceful and pretty. Another advantage is the breeze. On the warmest afternoons the wind is never still, and the trees are constantly moved by pleasing zephyrs, worth their weight in precious jewels to the people who spend their days in the potteries and know no other breathing spot than the Diamond. A seat placed near the edge of the bluff where a weary man could see the view and feel the breeze would be of inestimable benefit, and the News Review believes the investment would pay for itself in a short time, so great would be the benefit to the general public. Still another advantage which is not to be winked at is the presence of trees. The cemetery is filled with them, and if kept neatly trimmed they would form the best of shade and add largely to the appearance of the park. At present they are allowed to grow as they will, the trustees not having enough money at their command to make the required improvements every year. In some parts of the plot there is a beautiful sward, which a little care would sensibly improve, as the ground at one time is said to have been one of the prettiest pasture fields in this part of the country. If the larger stones were moved away, and the mounds of earth reduced to the general level of the place, it could be made as pretty as any park in this part of the world.

Any objection that the ground is not large enough can readily be overruled. The available plot as shown by the deeds and old papers still in existence stretches from the lower side of Fifth street to Sixth and from the property lines on the east to the edge of the bluff. That it would be small no one will deny, but that it is too small is another matter of more than ordinary importance. If the city cannot use the whole of the cemetery it can use what was long ago known as the new part, that portion added to the original gift when it was found that too many people died here for the confines of the graveyard. Some people are anxious to move the bodies of deceased relatives, and are only prevented from doing so by the objections of other friends, who would give way in a moment if they but knew the city ordered it. At present they feel that the cemetery should not be allowed to remain as it is, but no other plan can be suggested. If the city decides to locate the hospital there it will still be in the nature of a park, as the building will not occupy all the ground, and the lawn can be laid out in walks, so that those who desire can have a breathing spot.

Perhaps the chief reason why the city should take hold of the property, and use it for some purpose by which the general public is benefited, can be found in the reason that it is now a standing monument of decay. The trustees feel they have no money to spend in improving it, and the public, or such portions as resort to the place, use it for their own purposes. Children play in it by day, and men and women frequently find their way there at night. The crimes that have been committed in the old cemetery is sufficient reason that it should be made a park, where the decent and respectable can go instead of leaving it a resort for the disreputable and depraved in the still watches of the night. Cows have been known to browse upon the graves, and tombstones have fallen to the ground.

Taken all in all the place itself cries out for improvement; demands that something be done. There is no reason why it should be allowed to remain in its present condition, when it can be transformed by a little enterprise and a few dollars into a park blossoming with beauty and affording a breathing spot, the value of which cannot be overestimated.

PEAKE'S POINTERS.

The Fourth Ward Councilman Makes Telling Points.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW.—I may be hasty in speech, and at times may make use of wrong and unparliamentary language, as many men are liable to do when temper is in the ascendency. But I make it my aim to always look to the best interests of my constituents and the city at large. Referring to the points I made at the late council meeting as regards fire protection in the West End, no just or square man can truthfully contradict my assertions. The nearest fire plug to the West End pottery is at corner of Eighth street and Sheridan avenue, and this plug is almost buried beneath the ground, and is in such miserable condition as to compel Chief Adam to admit that it is almost useless in an emergency. The next plug is at the corner of Lisbon road and Fairview street, from 600 to 700 feet distant. Then we have another at the ice house, almost a quarter of a mile distant, and another at Monroe and Sixth, near the Cartwright property. The city must take cognizance of the bad state of affairs and apply a remedy. In the next place the West End sadly needs one or two patrol boxes, in order that the police force may control the rough and lawless element, and the citizens of the Fourth ward will see to it that they have their rights in this particular. As the representative of the Fourth ward I shall fight for her interests to the best of my ability, and my enemies can growl to their heart's content.

JOHN PEAKE,
Councilman Fourth ward.

A BETTER BASIS.

Company E is At Last Showing Some Activity.

The drill of Company E at the rink last night was attended by 30 men, who passed through the work as though some spirit was again being injected into the organization. Captain Supplee was in command, and after the drill accompanied the soldiers to the armory, where an election for second lieutenant was held. Sergeant Hanley was made the judge, and three names were placed in nomination. The vote showed Sergeant Samuel Johnson, a popular young painter of the city, to be the lucky man, and the announcement was made that in two weeks the first lieutenant will be chosen. Captain Palmer was present, and on invitation of Captain Supplee spoke for a few minutes to the boys, telling them their duty and the necessity of concentrated action. The company is now in good condition and will be drilled in the rink by Captain Palmer every Thursday evening by request of Captain Supplee, commander of the company.

SEVEN MEN DEAD.

An Awful Explosion in a Harness Shop.

SPECIAL TO NEWS REVIEW.
FALL RIVER, MASS., June 14.—An explosion of neaptha this morning blew up the harness shop of Henry Langley when 37 men were at work in the building. The structure was demolished and fire broke out in the ruins. The department aided by a large force of volunteers succeeded in removing seven bodies, and eight men are known to have escaped with their lives. The missing number 22, and they are believed to be in the ruins.

FIELD DAY AND CAMP.

The Young Men's Christian Association Are Preparing.

A meeting of all the Young Men's Christian association boys will be held this evening for the purpose of discussing a field day and the summer outing in camp. A large attendance is desired. On Monday evening of next week the directors will meet for organization, and the officers will be chosen. Prominent members of the association feel much encouraged now that the prospects for a physical director are good, and an energetic campaign for more funds will soon be started.

Hale Won a Race.

George Hale the wheelman won first place in the half mile race at Tarentum yesterday and third place in the handicap. He broke his wheel in one contest, but made good time in the other.

AT WORK ON THE SCALE

Committeemen Are In Session This Afternoon.

NOTHING OFFICIAL GIVEN OUT

Messrs. Laughlin, McClave and Campbell Are Preparing the Selling Price—It Will Not Become Operative at Once—What They Say in Pittsburgh of the Meeting.

The settlement of the new scale of prices among the potters seems to have run against an obstruction, and a committee made up of Messrs. Laughlin, McClave and Campbell are now working on the new list.

The statement made in the News Review yesterday afternoon was correct, but all the manufacturers had not ratified the agreement and the closing part of the work was placed in the hands of the committee. Mr. McClave told a reporter this afternoon that the committee would be in session until evening, and he preferred to say nothing until its work was done for it might have to be corrected. Their task is to prepare the scale, and decide just what the reduction is, and as many matters are to be considered the details may be changed. The scale will not go into effect at once, but will be ready for adoption as soon as the committee can prepare it. The work is a delicate task, and none know it better than the committee.

Some manufacturers do not take the rosy view of the new deal assumed by others, and say the English will continue to have the advantage because of the difference in the freight rates. Ware can be shipped to the western market for less money from Newport News and other seaports than from East Liverpool, which shows the English still a few cents in advance, even if they continue the present rate of selling and do not cut. If the inter-state commerce commission fails to act on the request of the potters to bring these men who get around the law to justice, some other course must be adopted. They continue, however, to the belief that the authorities will waste no time in investigating the charge.

THAT MEETING.

What a Pittsburgh Reporter Says of It.

A Pittsburgh paper in its report of the meeting yesterday says: "The White Granite Manufacturers' association continued its session yesterday, and at one time it was about decided to give up the struggle entirely and dissolve the association. Knowles, Taylor & Knowles, of East Liverpool, one of the largest producing firms wanted to cut prices below the English list, while most of the other manufacturers thought it would be sufficient to first meet the foreign prices. The representatives of the firm claimed that certain big New York importers obtained inside prices from English manufacturers and as the firm wished to make an effort to hold its trade it did not wish to be handicapped by an agreement which would preclude competition. The same stand was taken by a few other firms, while the majority dissented.

The minority withdrew from the organization, and immediately left for their homes. This practically disrupted the association. The meeting was very exciting, and the heated tempers of the manufacturers was aggravated by the weather. The meeting adjourned and after the gentlemen had cooled off somewhat they concluded that if they were to hang at all it were better that they should all hang together, instead of singly, and it was decided to concede to the minority.

THE C. C. SCALE.

No Meeting Has Yet Been Called to Consider.

The C. C. and yellow ware men have been watching the action of the white granite compact these past few days, but have not yet decided on a time of meeting in order to prepare to meet it. These manufacturers are largely governed by the white granite people, and they want to see it all settled before they leave the path they are now in. It may be several weeks before they make a move.

A CHANCE TO BUY.

Big Buyers of Ware Are Still in the Market.

The New York correspondent of a trade paper has this to say of trade, and it will be cheering news now that that Liverpool ware is cheap as any: "The business being recorded just now is mainly from the smaller houses and for the cheaper grades of goods. The buyers from the larger houses have been, and still are, in the market, but without doing much more than looking around and hinting at their future requirements. In spite of this slow movement, however, the volume of business is from 30 to 50 per cent. beyond that of last year at this time."

WILL BE A SOLDIER.

Nineteen Ambitious Boys Were Examined at Alliance.

The examination to decide upon a cadet from this district to the military academy at West Point, was held in Alliance yesterday, 19 young men from the three counties being present. The test was in the common branches and was hard enough to bring out the salient points of a common school education. In the physical examination the boys were entirely stripped of their raiment. Not an East Liverpool boy was there to present the claims of one of the largest towns in the district, although several announced their intention of competing when the examination was ordered.

APPETIZING HARNESS.

How the Craving of a Calf Was Satisfied.

Two young machinists, well known in the city, went picnicking with their girls to Fredericktown yesterday, and unhitched the horses turning them into a field while they enjoyed the day. The harness hanging on the fence attracted the attention of a calf with an appetite for leather, and when they returned in the evening it was to find such portions of it inside that calf as to prevent hitching the harness to the carriage. It is said the party walked home, but their friends do not believe it.

HARD TO CONVINCE.

A Stranger Would Not Believe the Authorities.

A colored man accompanied by another stranger came to city hall last night and said he was looking for a man named Schwab who recently came here from the lumber region and had been living with a woman who was not his wife. He had heard the pair were in jail here, and wanted to see them. Chief Gill told him that no such case had come to his knowledge, and he usually knew all that was going on, but the men would not believe them. Whereupon he showed them the empty jail, and the pair walked sorrowfully away.

PRINTERS WILL STRIKE.

No Prospect of the Scale Being Signed in Lisbon.

SPECIAL TO NEWS REVIEW.

Lisbon, June 14.—Two weeks ago the printers presented a scale to the publishers of this place, and named next Monday as the day upon which it would go into effect. To the present time not a publisher has signed, and one of the leaders is quoted as saying that he never will, but proposes to employ non-union men. The printers say they will strike if the scale is not signed. There are a dozen who will be affected.

AFFIRMED THE DECISION.

The Connors-Golding Damage Suit Settled in the Supreme Court.

The Connors-Golding case which has been in the courts for a matter of two years was settled by the supreme court affirming the decision of common pleas court in Columbus yesterday. The suit was for damages because Connors was hurt at the flint mill, and the court gave him $3,000. The Golding company carried it up, and then made another move by asking for a new trial in common pleas.

TEARING UP THE WALKS.

The Old Board Traps on Calcutta Road Are Going.

Commissioner Welch and his force are at work today carrying out the edict of council, and tearing up the old board walk on the Calcutta road. The work shows that the sleepers have rotted, and would never be of any use if an attempt was made to repair the walks by the addition of new boards. The walks were in a deplorable condition of decay, and should long ago have been removed.

OUT ON THE HILLS.

The population of Spring Grove has increased to 17 families, and other families will be in next week.

Residents are talking of asking Superintendent Andrews to give them a better service in the morning. If they do not catch the 6:30 car in the morning they are delayed until after 7 o'clock. Last year they got a car at 6:45 which put them in town at seven, and they want the same system in force this year, believing they can get it.

The latest addition to the colony is T. R. Andrews and family, of Wellsville. Mr. Andrews has almost recovered from his recent illness.

TO REGULATE SPEED

An Ordinance For Wheelmen to be Passed.

COUNCILMEN ARE FAVORING IT

They Do Not Want to Discriminate Against Riders, But Are Desirous of Protecting the Public—The Club Will Have a Road Race in Two Weeks.

Councilmen are anxious to pass an ordinance regulating the speed of riders in the city, but want to do what is fair and right by the several hundred men and women, boys and girls, who swear by the bicycle.

Before the meeting of the Ceramic City Cycling club last evening, Councilmen Stewart and Chellis talked the matter over with W. L. Taylor, president of the club, and asked that an ordinance be drawn up and presented to council at the next regular meeting. The lines upon which they would like to see the law prepared calls for a given speed between street crossings, and a slower speed when turning corners. The gentlemen expressed themselves as being anything but opposed to wheelmen, and simply wanted justice done them as well as the general public. At the meeting of the club it was decided to have the ordinance ready for the next meeting of council, where it will be presented and considered.

The club also decided upon a road race for the afternoon of June 29 from Steubenville to this city, the course to start at Fourth street in Steubenville and end at a tape in the Diamond. It will be a scratch race with a time limit of two hours and a half, and confined to members of the club, the chief prize being a club medal. At least 10 men must enter before the next meeting of the club, and there will be a prize for every man finishing within the limit. Captain Bott will stir up the boys, and do his level best to make it a success. Another important bit of business was the appointment of a committee with power to rent permanent quarters. If the rooms can be secured, the next meeting will be held in the club rooms next Friday evening. The road race is the topic among members of the organization today, who have set out to work upon an enthusiastic feeling.

Lack of Brains.

Mention was made in yesterday's News Review of the very bad conduct of a married man, said individual being engaged in newspaper work. Last evening a certain compositor of East Liverpool branded himself as the guilty man, and displayed asinine qualities in committing himself before numerous witnesses, breathing vows of vengeance against the management of the News Review, threatening to wipe said manager off the face of the earth at the first opportunity. The poutroon is an abject coward as well as a petty scoundrel, and he will look carefully to the best interests of his worthless carcass if he refrains from attempting to carry his threat into execution.

Nelson Case Postponed.

Solicitor Clark, for the city, and Attorney J. H. Brookes, for the defense, were at city hall this afternoon to try the test case of the city against Thomas Nelson for being in John McFadden's saloon after hours. The case was continued until Friday next at 1 o'clock owing to the absence of Jurors Charles Birkett and William Barker. Doctor Birkett was brought to city hall by Officer Meador, but Barker had been ordered by the court to appear before the tax inquisitor today and is in Lisbon.

Almost Bled to Death.

Mrs. George Clendenning, of East End, had her teeth pulled in the city proper yesterday morning and the bleeding continued during the afternoon until she was alarmed. Doctor Marshall was called and found that the lady was bleeding sufficiently to have caused her death had it been allowed to continue. She lost about a quart of blood and is still quite weak.

Hard For the Maiden.

The Water Maiden took a party of Wellsville excursionists down the river yesterday, and on the return tripped a few people on the West Virginia side near Walker. The boat grounded in the shallow water, and was for two hours in a tight place. After a hard fight the crew succeeded in getting the craft afloat.

Orders for East End.

J. T. King, sanitary policeman, has been inspecting vaults and cellars in the East End, with the result that improvements will soon be seen in that part of town. The cellars were found in good condition, but the vaults in a bad way, and he ordered a number cleaned and several built.

KILL THE HOODOO.

If Ohio Republicans are so superstitious as to believe in the six year hoodoo, so called, it is because the barrel owned by Colonel Brice is already opened and doing business at the old stand. He does not care a rap who is going to be the next governor of Ohio, nor has he a choice on the personality of the other state officers, but he is centering all his efforts on the next legislature, and proposes to carry it for Calvin S. Brice if such a thing is possible. Every effort will be centered on the men who aspire to the senate and house of representatives, and all because the colonel wants them to vote for his election. The Toledo Blade makes an earnest appeal to the voters of Ohio to kill the influence of Brice, and elect a Republican to stand with Senator Sherman, and the News Review heartily second the move. There is no excuse for a Democratic senator from this state when it is a fact that the people do not want one, and only the liberal use of what they term grease, and the dirtiest kind of politics, will ever bring it about. If every Republican does his duty next November Mr. Brice will be disappointed.

THE LIBEL LAW.

The International league of Press clubs met in Philadelphia the other day and after eating a good meal passed a good resolution, which shows how level the head of the average newspaper man really is. The declaration wants the legislature of every state to pass the following bill: "Before any suit shall be brought for the publication of a libel in any newspaper in this state, the aggrieved party shall have at least three days before filing or serving the complaint in such suit to serve notice on the publisher or publishers of said newspaper at the principal office of publication, specifying the statements in the said article which he or they may allege to be false or defamatory. If it shall appear on the trial of said action that the article was published in good faith, that its falsity was due to a mistake or misapprehension of the facts, and that a full and fair retraction of any statement therein alleged to be erroneous was published in the next regular issue of such newspaper, or in case of daily papers, within three days after such mistake or misapprehension was brought to the knowledge of such publisher or publishers, in as conspicuous a place and type in such newspaper as was the article complained of as libelous, then the plaintiff in such case shall recover only actual damages. Provided, however, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to the case of any libel against any candidate for a public office in this state, unless the retraction of the charge is made editorially in a conspicuous manner at least three days before election, in case such libelous article was published in a daily paper. If published in a weekly paper, at least ten days before election."

A law of this kind would do much to carry out the declaration of the state constitutions that free speech, whether by word of mouth or by the pen, is given all mankind. Instances can be named where the libel law conflicts with the constitution.

ONE CAT WORTH $12,500.

Did You Ever See a Pure Tortoise Shell Tom?—Cats That Look Like Bulldogs.

It is estimated that there are 390,000 cats in England and 69 varieties. With the greater number of these varieties the average reader is probably quite unfamiliar.

Tortoise shell and white toms are very common, says an English writer, but a pure tortoise shell tom is so extremely scarce that many people declare that they exist only in the imagination.

Any one who happens to possess a female red tabby without any white spots could obtain a price which would keep him in comfort for at least a couple of years without work. Female red tabbies are as rare as tortoise shell toms.

The taste in Persian cats just now runs on the deep blue with orange colored eyes. Edward Lloyd, the tenor, had one for which he repeatedly refused $150. The bright slate or blue is a favorite variety of the Persian, the price sometimes going as high as $125.

White cats of really herculean proportions readily fetch $500. The Marquis of Dufferin is extremely partial to white cats, upward of a dozen of these splendid creatures being comfortably domiciled at the British embassy in Paris.

Russian cats fetch high prices. The Duchess of Bedford owns several of a species extremely rare—a very curious tint of blue. Russian white cats are also highly prized, but the white variety is seldom long haired.

Mr. Sam Woodriss is the owner of a smooth haired tom, Xenophon, of such gigantic proportions that when the writer, after an introduction, induced the cat to approach by calling in seductive accents, he experienced a feeling akin to dismay as the mammoth jumped on his knee, which in the course of a few moments began to exhibit unmistakable signs of fatigue, and no wonder—for 25 pounds is a fair weight. Xenophon is valued by its owner at $12,500.

Lady de Trafford has cats of such remarkable girths that the writer for a moment took them for a hairy sort of bulldog.

The value of cats is much enhanced if they possess the black markings on the chest known as the "Lord Mayor's chain." The writer has seen a cat of this sort for which the owner would not take $2,500.

Some cats are actually vegetarians, and a curious variety from Burma will only drink water.

FEARLESS OF DANGER.

How One of the Du Ponts Died in a Powder Mill Explosion.

Thus far no Du Pont of the famous gunpowder making family of Delaware has ever been false to the family law of bravery, while more than one has given his life in obeying it. One Saturday evening in the summer of 1857 Alexis I. Du Pont, son of Eleuthere, was in one of the mixing rooms with some of his men, trying to shift a heavy yellow pine box. As they slid the box along the floor, the friction caused a spark to strike, and instantly the room was ablaze. Fortunately most of the gunpowder had been taken out, it being the end of the week, but the walls and floor were sufficiently sprinkled with it to cause a sharp puff, which set the men's clothes on fire. Alexis, realizing the danger instantly, and being himself in flames, called to the men to follow him, and running out of the building threw himself into the mill race. The others did likewise, and thus, for the moment, all were safe. But Alexis, turning toward the mills as he swam, saw that sparks from the burning mixing room were falling in showers on the roof of the press and cutting mill, which contained, as he knew, several tons of powder. In spite of the appeals of the men, he rushed back to the point of danger, calling out as he ran, "Now, boys, pass me buckets of water."

Then he climbed fearlessly upon the roof, which was now nearly burned through—for in those days the roofs were made of pitch and cement—and began fighting the flames as best he could. Inspired by his courage, the workmen rallied with a will at the bucket line, but before they had got fairly started the explosion came, blowing Alexis Du Pont with fearful force against one of the drying stands, crushing his ribs into his lungs, and injuring him so that he died in great agony a few hours later.—Cleveland Moffett in McClure's Magazine.

WELLSVILLE.

POE DIED IN A CHAIR

A Tragic Happening in a Lisbon Office.

HEART DISEASE WAS THE CAUSE

He Was Ill When Going Out In the Hack,
But Recovered and Was Again Seized.
Well Known in the Two Cities Where He Has Long Lived.

Anthony Poe, a man well known in the two cities, died yesterday afternoon under distressing circumstances.

Poe was 79 years of age, and has been unwell for months, although he was not thought to be in danger. Yesterday he received a message from Lisbon announcing the dangerous illness of his sister, Mrs. Susan Crawford, an aged resident of that place. Being desirous of seeing her he left his house opposite city hall and taking the street car went to Wellsville.
There he engaged a seat in the hack, and started for Lisbon. Last night Mayor Gilbert was notified by telephone that he had been seized with a fainting spell on the road, and had died before the vehicle reached its destination. Chief Gill carried the sad intelligence to his family, and further particulars were secured.

News from Lisbon today says that Poe died at 5:30 o'clock in a chair at the office of Attorney Wells. Death was instantaneous, and resulted from heart trouble. The remains were taken to Sipe's undertaking rooms,
and removed to Liverpool this morning. The people in the office had no intimation that Poe was ill, or in danger until their attention was attracted, and a moment afterward he was dead. The illness which seized him on the road had apparently passed away before the fatal attack.

Poe has lived in Liverpool and Wellsville for many years, and was well known, particularly in the latter place, where his daughter, Mrs. May J.
Gallagher, has made a name for herself.

A SENSATIONAL CASE.

J. E. Hickey, of East Liverpool, Charged With Theft.

J. E. Hickey, foreman of the section crew of the street railway, was arrested by Chief Warren last night
upon a warrant sworn out by Elwood Bunting, and was released on bail for a hearing.

Bunting demanded his arrest
upon the statement that he had stolen from his pocket a wallet containing $400. Both men were in Connor's saloon on Third street, and it is there the money is supposed to have been stolen. Hickey protested his innocence, and wanted to give bail when arraigned this morning. Jason H. Brookes was the surety and the amount was placed at $500.
The case caused no end of a sensation among the people who learned of it as Hickey has always been looked upon as an honest man, and his friends say that Bunting is making a mistake in prosecuting him for something he did not do. Later Bunting became involved in a row, and was himself arrested for hitting a man in the face.
He gave bond for a hearing.

DROGGED THE DRIVER.

An Amusing Incident on Main Street
Yesterday.

A young man was attempting to drive a horse on Main street yesterday afternoon when the animal scared
at a street car and decided to manage himself. As he dashed down the street the driver held to the bridle,
and was dragged for half a square.
The spectators expected to see him killed or badly hurt, but the plucky fellow would not release his hold and succeeded in stopping the horse. He was uninjured.

A Creditable Presentation.

The presentation of "Charleston" at the opera house last night attracted a large crowd, and the building had been so well cared for that the room was not unusually hot. The play is a good one, and the members of the cast bathed in glory. The audience was kind enough to overlook the very few breaks in the regular order,
and loudly applauded the many excellent features.

He Rode West.

Rev. W. A. Littell, the United Presbyterian minister, has started west on his bicycle. He left yesterday, and expects to be gone a month. The gentleman will use the wheel as often as possible, and hopes to be benefited in health by the trip.

It's Waterproof.

Interlined "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs turn water like a duck's back and show neither spot nor soil. They are not effected by perspiration, and always look as if right out of the box. When they get soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth. These are but a few of the advantages of wearing the "Celluloid" Collars and Cuffs. There are many others that you will readily discover the first time you wear one.

They are the only waterproof interlined collars and cuffs made. Be sure to get the genuine with this trade mark stamped inside, if you desire perfect satisfaction. Made in all sizes and all styles. If you can't get them at the dealers, we will send sample postpaid,

on receipt of price: Collars, 25 cents each. Cuffs, 50 cents pair. State size, and whether you want a stand-up or turned-down collar.

fall. Meantime the young lady will rest, the resignation becoming effective tomorrow.

Buried Yesterday.

The late Mr. Garey, who died on Monday, was buried from his late home a few miles back from the river
on the West Virginia side yesterday.
People who have known him all their lives say he was the oldest man in Hancock county, and was nearer the century mark than he really knew.

Witnesses Were Absent.

Pohmer, the bartender for Connors,
who was out on bail awaiting a hearing for selling liquor on Sunday, was on hand at the trial last night, but it was postponed because important witnesses could not be found.

Will Entertain Tonight.

Miss Mary McDonald will entertain a party of friends at her home across the river tonight. A number of Wellsville people will be among the guests.

Will Become a Student.

David Silver went yesterday to Boston where he will arrange to take the examinations, and will enter Harvard college next fall.

A Big Day.

The largest shipment of ware for any one day in months was rated at the freight depot yesterday when the employees were kept busy taking care of the work. For weeks shipments have been very small when compared with an average day when times were better, but yesterday was an exception in the rest at the depot, and it is hoped it will continue.

Among the Base Ballists.

The Chevalliers met with the Audubons on the West End grounds yesterday afternoon and were victorious in seven innings. The score was:
Chevalliers, 20; Audubons, 15. Ash-baugh and Grosscross were the battery for the Chevalliers, and Tarr and Sinclair for the Audubons. The features of the game were two home runs by the Chevalliers, and the clever work of Meredith at bat and short for the Audubons. The two teams will probably try conclusions next week and the Audubon battery will be Heddlerton and Tarr for a change.

The Liverpool Reds challenge the Chevallier club to a game at any date within the next two weeks. Answer through the News Review.

The Grey Eagles and Smoky Row clubs have a game booked for Gardner park this afternoon.

The Cartwright pottery team decided not to play ball with Burford's
today and the Standard pottery club will attempt to do the annihilating act in their stead. The game is booked for the West End grounds.
